Instead of that, I, along with twenty others, were obliged to stand on a log during six or eight hours on one of the coldest days of winter, on account of not attending church, and this to the Colonel's own knowledge.

He says that I have only forfeited about five dollars; instead of that, ten dollars has been storped of my pay. What I principally complain of, however, is the grossly unjust manner in which my trial was conducted by the officers of this post. The witness who swore that I refused to ask permission of Col. G. to get excused from attending church, also mentioned that another soldier was with me. As I was convinced that I never peremptorily refused to attend church, or displayed anything of a spirit of insubordination, I called on this person as witness. But singular to say, every single question I asked this man was objected to by the court, because they believed that his answers would tend to acquit me. I, in consequence of the partiality, did not call on any other witness.

REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING AUGUST 21, 1851

REMARKS .- Since last Thursday the Northwestern prong of the Cape Fear river has swollen something near, or quite. 2 feet, and country produce, such as timber and naval stores, has arrived somewhat more freely than for a number of weeks. There has, consequently, been considerable animation in outdoor transactions. The river is now, however, understood to be falling very rapidly, and without another rise our town will soon resume its former dull summer appearance. The al justness and sagacity of its national views, thus noticed the proposition for a direct importing trade. completely bare. We can hear of no N. C. sides in store-at least a very few. TIMBER- The late temporary rise of the Northwestern prong of the Cape Fear has enabled the makers to bring down some 21 rafts of timber since our last report; 11 of which have been taken by the millers at prices ranging within our classified figures. There were no sales to-day, and buyers are rather inclined to hold off for lower rates, but sellers at the same time manifest no disposition to yield. There are only 10 rafts remaining unsold, and we hear of no others on the way down. The river is understood to be falling rapidly.

FREIGHTS-But few vessels in port, and freights, in consequence of the recent receipts of produce, have become somewhat more plenty, and rates are inclined to go up a shade, though as yet we hear of no positive advance. Exchange-Bank rates continue firm. See table.
